Each manager owns exactly one country - revenue rank mirrors market size, not performance.

46.3% Navin Singh's 2017 growth - highest in the company, despite ranking outside the top 5 by revenue
Emma Smith leads on absolute revenue because she covers the largest market (US), not necessarily because she's the top performer; managers like Navin Singh and Antonio González post the strongest growth rates

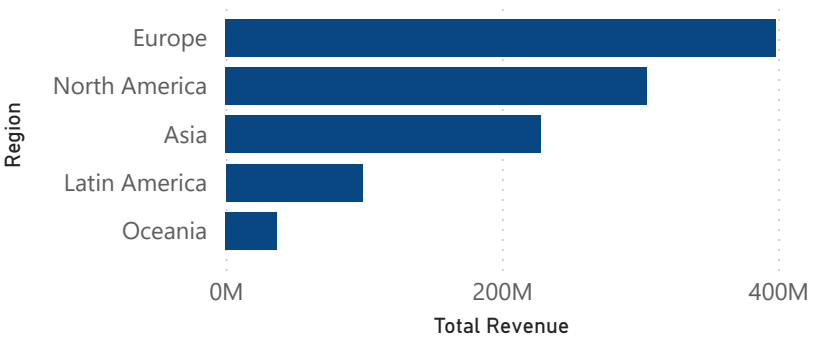

Revenue YoY % by Sales Manager and Year

Evaluate managers on growth % and margin, not absolute revenue; document and share the practices of top-growth managers company-wide

10.6× Europe's revenue vs. Oceania's ($398.8M vs $37.5M)
Europe leads all regions; Latin America and Oceania remain comparatively small markets

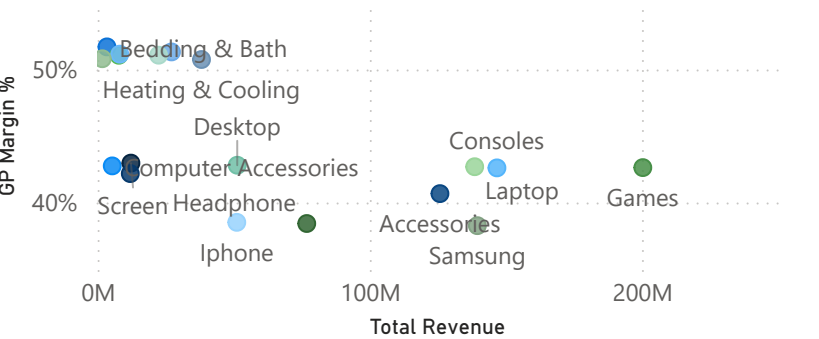

Total Revenue by Region

Replicate the US/Europe web playbook in the largest underpenetrated markets (Brazil, Mexico); set explicit country-level growth targets

51.7% margin - Bedding & Bath's actual gross margin
Games leads revenue at $200.3M but sits at ~42.6% margin; Bedding & Bath, Home Décor, and Home Improvement all exceed 51% margin despite far lower revenue

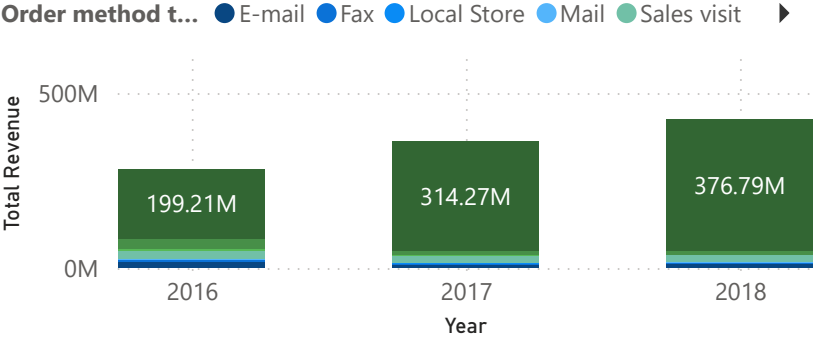

Total Revenue and GP Margin % by Product type

Grow high-margin home categories through bundling and cross-sell; review cost or pricing on Samsung/iPhone/Headphone, where margin trails 12+ points behind the average

83.3%
Web accounts for $890.3M in revenue; the entire offline presence is a single $34,928 transaction across three years

Total Revenue by Year and Order method type

Recommendation: treat this as a single-channel business - invest in web platform resilience and acquisition; either commit to a real offline pilot or formally retire that channel.

+17.4% 2018 growth, down from +27.9% in 2017
Revenue keeps growing, but order count is falling:
25,060 (2016) → 23,915 (2017) → 23,768 (2018)

Total Orders by Year

Investigate the order-count decline by country/channel; invest in acquisition and repeat purchase - price-driven growth alone has a ceiling
